

About Cogel

Cogel is a European based 'Boutique' Coaching Company which supports Senior Executives and their teams through periods of growth, challenge and opportunity.

Cogel delivers its coaching programs, through a limited number of highly qualified coaches, all of whom have managed and delivered at the highest levels across the globe. Cogel provides a unique combination of local insight, understanding, experience and support to our clients.

Cogel believes that real change can be accomplished by unleashing the potential of each team member, by challenging the status quo and leveraging the insight of those whom we support.

Our Key Areas of speciality include:

One-to-one Senior Executive coaching.

Coaching program roll outs across multinational/multicultural teams with online or in-person delivery.

Organisational Change Management Support', including skills auditing and resource management.

Support for Executives going through or preparing for significant career change.

Support through coaching to sustain the growth of newer organisations, including culture creation, management development and governance.

Mentoring of teams in transition or those challenged by the need to evolve in response to market needs.

Cogel is a 'people first' organisation that focuses on developing strategic long-term partnerships with the very best companies. Cogel supports their need to change and grow at pace.

Its unique positioning and partnerships ensure alignment with cutting edge coaching academic developments as well as the consistent delivery of positive organisational change for our clients through thought leadership and partnership.

In a Commercial environment, increasingly characterised by VUCA (Velocity, Uncertainty, Complexity and Ambiguity), Cogel is a coaching company whose C Suite experienced Coaches' vision is to sustainably support others through the organisational constant of change.

The perspectives and insights of our coaches are unmatched and provide an unrivalled combination of insight and support, exactly at the time and in a way it is needed most.

We partner with high performance teams and HR professionals right across the Global Commercial landscape to deliver for our clients.

Our client retention levels are amongst the highest in the industry and most of our new assignments are obtained by word of mouth.

'Cogel has awakened in me the light that has been extinguished in the past few years and made a star shine again.'

Annabell Moser - Director Customer Retail Operations and Business Development at Sony DADC

Who is Cogel?

What is Executive Coaching?

Global Coaching Delivered

Our Process

Our Team

Our Experience

Contact Us

Terms and Conditions

Security

Privacy & Cookies

hello@Cogel.co.uk

+353 87 187 1011

+49 173 215 52 38

About Cogel

Cogel is a European based 'Boutique' Coaching Company which supports Senior Executives and their teams through periods of growth, challenge and opportunity.

Cogel delivers its coaching programs, through a limited number of highly qualified coaches, all of whom have managed and delivered at the highest levels across the globe. Cogel provides a unique combination of local insight, understanding, experience and support to our clients.

Cogel believes that real change can be accomplished by unleashing the potential of each team member, by challenging the status quo and leveraging the insight of those whom we support.

Our Key Areas of speciality include:

One-to-one Senior Executive coaching.

Coaching program roll outs across multinational/multicultural teams with online or in-person delivery.

Organisational Change Management Support', including skills auditing and resource management.

Support for Executives going through or preparing for significant career change.

Support through coaching to sustain the growth of newer organisations, including culture creation, management development and governance.

Mentoring of teams in transition or those challenged by the need to evolve in response to market needs.

Cogel is a 'people first' organisation that focuses on developing strategic long-term partnerships with the very best companies. Cogel supports their need to change and grow at pace.

Its unique positioning and partnerships ensure alignment with cutting edge coaching academic developments as well as the consistent delivery of positive organisational change for our clients through thought leadership and partnership.

In a Commercial environment, increasingly characterised by VUCA (Velocity, Uncertainty, Complexity and Ambiguity), Cogel is a coaching company whose C Suite experienced Coaches' vision is to sustainably support others through the organisational constant of change.

The perspectives and insights of our coaches are unmatched and provide an unrivalled combination of insight and support, exactly at the time and in a way it is needed most.

We partner with high performance teams and HR professionals right across the Global Commercial landscape to deliver for our clients.

Our client retention levels are amongst the highest in the industry and most of our new assignments are obtained by word of mouth.

'Cogel has awakened in me the light that has been extinguished in the past few years and made a star shine again.'

Annabell Moser - Director Customer Retail Operations and Business Development at Sony DADC

